

Website Accessibility Statement

Oklahoma Parents Center's Website Accessibility Statement:

The Oklahoma Parents Center (OPC) has made a conscious effort to make this website accessible to everyone. If you have problems accessing something on the website or have a suggestion for improving the website's accessibility, please email info@oklahomaparentscenter.org.

Standards Compliance:

This website follows WCAG 2.0 Level AA accessibility guidelines. As such, the site should be accessible to individuals who use various technology supports such as screen readers and screen magnification. Additional information about WCAG 2.0 Level AA accessibility guidelines may be found at (external non-P2P website): <http://www.w3.org/TR/WCAG20/>.

Making the text larger or smaller:

The P2P website is designed to meet the needs of visitors who need text of different sizes. The content uses "relative sizing," so that you can use the browser's controls or assistive technology to change the font size (the exact method will depend on your browser or assistive technology). Headings will always be larger than paragraph text, so that the visual display will be clear.

The site uses a "fluid" design, so that the text flows to match the space of the browser's window. If you change the size of the browser window or the text, the content will, over a wide range, remain within the right and left margins of the window.

Images

The OPC website includes images both to improve the appeal of the site and to convey information. The site also includes the information conveyed by the image in the alt-text or long description of the image, so that those who cannot access the images have the full benefit of the site.

Menu Navigation

All menus on the OPC site can be navigated using the mouse, keyboard, or touch screen. For efficiency, the site includes drop-down menus that are not currently keyboard accessible. Selecting the top level of the menu will take you to a page that provides links to each of the pages available via the drop-down menu.

Links

Links have been written to provide context and information about what they link to. Links that take you to an external website have been indicated. Links are represented by a different hex color.

Color Schemes and Contrast

The colors of the text have been selected to have a high contrast from the background to make text stand out clearly and be easy to read. All text in the site has a contrast ratio of at least 4.5:1 between any text and its background. Static text (i.e., text that you cannot interact with) is in a black font.

PDF (.PDF) Documents

Portable Document Format (PDF) is sometimes used to preserve the content and formatting of publications and other items that were intended for distribution by hard copy (e.g., paper-based). If you cannot access or read a .pdf created by OPC, please email us: info@oklahomaparentscenter.org.

If you are using a screen reader to access the website, you may need Adobe Reader or some similar program to open and read the PDF files. If you have a screen reader, you may also need Access Adobe. You can download Adobe Reader and Access Adobe for free from Adobe's website at (external non-OPC website) <http://www.adobe.com/>.

If you have any problems navigating the website, please report them to OPC by emailing info@oklahomaparentscenter.org. We appreciate your feedback.